GREEN FINANCIAL RESOURCES:

Making Education a Priority

Whether you're a young student in one of Gwinnett's world-class schools or an adult on the job, there's no disputing the value and need for education. In fact, the goal of being a life-long learner is one we should all embrace.

You'll see that priority on education in action with Roger Green and his firm, Green Financial Resources (GFR). For more than 30 years, Roger Green, MSFS, CFP® has made it his goal to educate all who seek his help so they are able to take a more active role in planning for retirement and their financial future.

Roger has taught retirement planning at local colleges since 1997, and from 1998-2017 he hosted the educational radio program "Your Green" on WNIV 970 AM. For the past several years, GFR has sponsored online financial literacy programs at several Gwinnett middle and high schools.

Roger's focus on education is at the core of his unique philosophy – to provide a free consultation to all who ask, without any asset minimums. "We are focused on truly helping people and that comes through in our commitment to sharing our knowledge," says Roger. "We're proud to have helped thousands become more enlightened investors."

In addition to his passion for educating consumers, Roger also has made his own ongoing continuing education a priority to ensure he can better serve his community. He holds a Master of Science in Financial Services (MSFS) and the Certified Financial Planner™ (CFP®) amongst several other professional designations. He has also earned graduate level certificates, met 30 years of ongoing continuing education requirements, and has the experience gained through thousands of individual meetings with people from all different walks of life and situations.

Roger's commitment to his community was recognized earlier this year, when he was nominated for, and received, a Public Service Award from the Gwinnett Chamber.

Take control of your financial future, and put Roger's 30 years of educated experience to work for you now. Request a free consultation or find information about upcoming retirement planning classes by visiting www.rogersgreen.com.
