DULUTH- For the second year in a row, Roger Green of Green Financial Resources, LLC has been selected as one of five finalists for the Gwinnett Chamber of Commerce Small Business Person of the Year.

"You are competing against the best of the best," Meghan Schroder of the Chamber said. "To be a finalist two years in a row is a big honor."

Entrepreneurs are selected by applications submitted after their nomination. The applications are then judged by a committee of five to narrow the field to five finalists. Those five finalists are then scored on an interview. From the interview, a winner is selected.

"This year there were about 115 nominees," Schroder said. "These are business owners who have been established for years and are known throughout the community."

In the January 2006 issue of Research Magazine, Green was named to The Winner's Circle of the State by State Top Ranked Advisors in America. Green was recently named to the 2006 Gwinnett Business All-Stars in Gwinnett Magazine and is a 2006 finalist for the SPOTY Award from Kennesaw State University's Michael J. Coles College of Business. Green Financial Resources, LLC was listed as one of "Atlanta's Top 20 Financial Planning and Advisory Firms" in the October 2003 Atlanta Business Chronicle.

With 11 employees and assets under management of over $240 million, Green Financial Resources maintains their commitment to client relationships and continued education, while also focusing on the community around them. To help draw community attention to the importance of retirement planning he has hosted "Your Green" on WNIV 970 AM since 1998 and has taught retirement planning classes for Gwinnett Technical College and the University of Georgia since 1997. He also uses his time and talents to assist community charitable organizations. Beginning in July, Green has been invited to serve on the Board of Directors for the Gwinnett Children's Shelter and he has served since 2004 on the Board of the Touching Lives Christian Ministry based in Snellville. GFR will be holding their 5th annual golf tournament September 26th at the River Club in Suwanee; this year to raise money for the Dream House for Medically Fragile Children based in Lilburn.

"I consider this recognition from the Chamber to be the highest honor received in my career, because it extends outside the financial field across all of the various types of small businesses in our large county," Green said when asked about his 2nd consecutive nomination. "I have been truly blessed, and I owe a great deal of gratitude to my wife Laura, for her support as Chief Operating Officer and leader of our team, my long-time professional associate Jason Piper; and the rest of our very dedicated staff who work to support me and our clients in so many ways."
